16th October 2020

St Stephen's Primary Church School

Happy Friday!

Sharing the love... We have a new arrival in school! This beautiful piece of art is now displayed in the foyer. It is a limited edition Damien Hirst piece entitled 'Butterfly Heart' and it was created to show support for NHS Charities Together and The Felix Project during the Coronavirus crisis. To us it represents so much - our core value of love, diversity and inclusion, and the flight and freedom of the butterflies - along with being a beacon of light and colour to emerge from the challenges that we continue to face together.

We are really grateful to Mr de Albuquerque's husband Tom who spotted the opportunity and acted swiftly to enable this to be gifted to us. We are all looking forward to a time when you will be able to see it in person!

Traffic around school... Thank you for your ongoing efforts to keep our surrounding roads car-free. A resident has politely asked whether the few people who are still using cars could please bear in mind the informal one way route along Richmond Place (i.e. driving with the school on your right). Thank you so much, and to those of you walking, scooting and cycling - please keep doing all you can - it is making such a difference and I have heard that our collective efforts have inspired other schools to do the same!

Have a lovely weekend, Andy Bowman

Best wishes,

Andy
